NEW KAHLES Ballistic Turret (BT)

PRACTICAL ASSISTANT FOR LONG DISTANCE SHOTS

Sometimes it is necessary to cover varying shooting distances a practical assistant to compensate the bullet drop is particularly helpful in these situations.

Determine the distance – set – let's go!

The new ballistic turret (BT) takes the guesswork out of aiming at different distances. It can be mounted independently in a few simple steps and thanks to the supplied and clearly identifiable stickers, 100% precise markings for the individual ballistic can be placed. They can be removed or adjusted quickly and easily if required. 120 marking stickers (drop-shaped), printed and blank, in orange, green and white are supplied with the product.
